SATURDAY, JUNE 27, 1896.

"Oom Paul" is sticker.

Those Venezuelans must have been reading about the . G.

For the first time all of the leading British papers have good words for a Republican nominee.

Weyler is not much more of a diplomat than he has demonstrated himself so far to be a suppressor of Cuban rebellion.

OUT TO WIN.

The Republican party of the United States is out to win at the end of this troubled year. Their leaders have planned to fairly surge to victory. They have skirmished, advanced guard and firing line all combined in a solid, moving front. Their skillful generals have overlooked nothing. They command a united, brave and enthusiastic army. With the cleverest use of all the material they have constructed a flying "trocha" which they calculate will simply sweep the enemy into the sea of defeat and oblivion.

The new blood is what has so perfectly equipped the Republican party for the opportunity of its life. Very few of the men who have been in the saddle at the fore since the days of Lincoln were at the St. Louis convention. The remarkable and absolute triumph of the McKinley forces was due to the talent, tact and management of men who have never before been prominent in a National campaign. The best speeches were made by young men new to public life and just winning the spurs of National fame. They bring to the contest an earnestness, zeal and a degree of confidence that is more than half a battle. They have routed the old "bosses." They have disciplined and dropped the disaffected and with their marvelous platform and their shouting following are ready for operations.

The whole Republican party is out to win now, as were the McKinley men when that statement was first projected as the proper person to bear the standard. No paper produced in the United States in half a century can compare with the St. Louis platform. It simply covers everything that could possibly be brought into the contest for the presidency. And every sentiment appeals to immense bodies of electors.

Elements that may find fault with one expression or idea in the platform will have the criticism fully offset by determined statement in another debatable matter. It may be called a blanket platform. But by whatever name it is a statement and declaration of principles that is strong as best thought could make it. And it has that rarest of all merit for a political document. No supplement or explanation is needed. Each plank is clear and concise. Any one could stand alone without any of the others.

In making this platform the authors probably perfectly accomplished their purpose of leaving not the smallest loophole or permitting weakness in any spot.

In a presidential campaign the personnel of the candidates means much. Since the period when the word of the Planned Knight, the incomparable James G. Blaine, was the law and the command for a million valiant men and effective voters, no individual in public life in the United States has had such tremendous individuality as Wm. McKinley of Ohio. He is affable, democratic, graceful, of liberal thought and on the plane with the common people. He is a western man. He is from a cradle of presidents.

Hobart, the man named for the Vice presidency, is an eastern ideal and favorably impresses both the leaders and the masses in other parts of the United States. A weak platform and indifferent management would not greatly impair the "running" qualities of this team.

There will be some side issues and camp disturbances before the fateful day of November. All reports from St. Louis indicate positively that the Republican managers have anticipated almost anything that can by any chance occur in the way of defection. They have planned away ahead all of the past four years, still have a discerning and penetrating eye on the future and all in all are out to win.

They are prepared in full armor for any or all combinations.

Hawaii has deep and abiding and vital and permanent interest in several paragraphs of the platform. Perhaps some other national convention will take cognizance of the Islands in a friendly spirit. It would be a trifle inconsistent on the part of the Democrats to do so, but the courtesy would certainly be accepted as such. The Republican party representatives have already spoken kindly and encouragingly to and of Hawaii. The party was friendly officially in the early days of 1893. The Democratic party was unfriendly as a Government in the latter days of 1893. It is not necessary to record judgment as between the two and Hawaii.

The Republicans appear to be actuated by the conviction that Americanism is supreme in Hawaii, that these Islands are a natural ally or companion of the United States. Reasoning back from these premises, the Republican party says that what is good for the two Republics is made a common cause by the party of McKinley, Harrison, Blaine and the other great men who have been its guides and advisors. Neither Hawaii nor Hawaiian newspapers can afford to be too partisan, but they cannot be so base as to fail in acknowledging friendship when it is evident in the truest, noblest and most patriotic of proffers.

GOMEZ ACTIVE.

HAVANA, June 19.—Private advices indicate that Maximo Gomez has formed a plan to overcome the falling Spanish garrison of Puerto Principe.

IN BEHALF OF AMERICANS.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Instructions of a direct and positive character have been sent to the United States Minister at Madrid, Hannis Taylor, to make strong representations to the Spanish government with a view of securing reparation for indignities to Dr. Jose Delgado and other American citizens in Cuba.

WEYLER'S DIPLOMACY.

HAVANA, June 19.—General Weyler's attitude toward Consul-General Lee is problematical. As is known, a dinner was given by the Governor-General in honor of General Lee. It was remarked that for the first time General Weyler had invited to his table a foreign representative. The Consuls of other nations resented this, and some openly spoke of the incident as an act of cowardice, which, far from doing any good to Spain, would show her once more as imploring mercy from the United States.

ARMENIANS KILLING.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 18.—Armenian aggression in Van continues. The Armenians have massacred a large number of Mussulmans. Turkish troops are now preventing neighboring tribes from entering the town.

HAWAIIAN HANGED.

FOLSOM, June 19.—Paul Kamaunu, a Hawaiian, was hanged in the prison corridor this morning for the murder of Mrs. Elen Robinson at Lathrop, El Dorado county, on May 6, 1894. The execution was devoid of sensational incident, and was witnessed by only the few persons required by law. The murderer died without a word or a tremor.

GEN. W. H. DIMOND.

NEW YORK, June 18.—General W. H. Dimond passed quietly away at 7:28 o'clock this morning. So peaceful was the end that only the practiced eye of the physician and attendant, who had been faithful watchers day and night at the bedside of the dying Californian, detected the signs of transition. Gen. Dimond mercifully was spared the final agony that usually attends the termination of Bright's disease, which carried him off. The remains will be shipped to San Francisco tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock over the New York Central.

MATABELES.

CAPE TOWN, June 18.—A new outbreak of natives of Matabeleland has occurred between Umfali and Salisbury. At a meeting in that vicinity on June 9th of a number of chiefs under Makoni all except four agreed to revolt, and several whites were killed.

TERRILL WINS.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., June 18.—It was a great day for Californians here at the national circuit bicycle races. Zeigler, McFarland and Terrill captured respectively the half mile, two mile handicap and mile for professionals.

MARQUIS DE MORES.

NEW YORK, June 18.—A Herald cable from Tunis says: The news of the massacre of Marquis de Mores and his expedition is confirmed.

BIG DISASTER.

LONDON, June 17.—The steamship Drummond Castle struck on a rock off the French coast, near Brest, at midnight last night, and sank in three minutes. There were on board 24 persons, 144 passengers and 103 officers and men of the crew. There were only two survivors.

AFTER THE BIG ONES.

CAPE TOWN, June 19.—The Secretary of State for the Transvaal has telegraphed the British High Commissioner here that, having in view the welfare and peace of South Africa, the Transvaal Government is convinced that proofs in its possession, which are at the disposal of Great Britain now, completely justify and compel the bringing to trial of Cecil Rhodes, Alfred Beit and Dr. Harris, all of the British South Africa Company, and connected with the raid in the Transvaal.

GERMANY WANTS SAMOA.

LONDON, June 19.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says there appears to be a disposition on the part of the German press to take up the Samoa question in view of the retirement of Governor Schmidt.

GUATEMALA REVOLUTION.

SAN JOSE, Guatemala, June 19.—A revolution has broken out in Guatemala.

VENEZUELA FIRM.

GEORGETOWN, (British Guiana) June 19.—One hundred British laborers were opening a road from the Barima to the Cuyuni river, within the Schonburg line, when they were stopped by armed Venezuelans. Orders have been sent from Georgetown to the British officers not to offer resistance to the Venezuelans, but to withdraw under protest.

GOLD STANDARD.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Minister Andrade of Venezuela has received advices from Caracas as to the final ratification of the constitutional amendments by which Venezuela adopts the gold standard.

THE HIGHEST AWARD.

Royal Baking Powder in Strength and Value 20 Per Cent. Above Its Nearest Competitor.

The Royal Baking Powder has the enviable record of having received the highest award for articles of its class—greatest strength, purest ingredients, most perfectly combined—wherever exhibited in competition with others. In the exhibitions of former years, at the Centennial, at Paris, Vienna and at the various State and Industrial fairs, where it has been exhibited, judges have invariably awarded the Royal Baking Powder the highest honors.

At the recent World's Fair the examination for the baking powder awards were made by the experts of the chemical division of the Agricultural Department at Washington. The official report of the tests of the baking powders which were made by this department for the specific purpose of ascertaining which was the best, and which has been made public, shows the leavening strength of the Royal to be 160 cubic inches of carbonic gas per ounce of powder. Of the cream of tartar baking powders exhibited at the fair, the next highest in strength thus tested contained but 133 cubic inches of leavening gas. The other powders gave an average of 111. The Royal, therefore, was found 20 per cent greater leavening strength than its nearest competitor, and 44 per cent above the average of all other tests. Its superiority in other respects, however, in the quality of the food it makes as to fineness, delicacy and wholesomeness, could not be measured by figures.

It is these high qualities, known and appreciated by the women of the country for so many years, that have caused the sales of the Royal Baking Powder, as shown by statistics, to exceed the sales of all other baking powders combined.

If an ad sounds improbable to the writer, the public can not be expected to believe it when they read it.

The first question to be asked of an advertising idea is, Is it good? not, Is it original? It can be good without being original, and original without being good.

Timely Topics.

We have just received a new novelty that is making a great hit in the East. It is an electric scarf pin or shirt stud. This little article is so compact that it can be carried in the vest pocket with the lamp in the necktie and to all outward appearances you have a diamond that surpasses in brilliancy the famous "Kohinoor." You can have "all kinds of fun" at the expense of your friends.

In case you are in need of a good wearing harness we have an excellent line of the imported article ranging in price from $16 to $40.

While you are buying your harness you will most likely want a new lap robe. We have some beauties in new colors and designs. Perhaps that saddle pad has become soiled and moth eaten. If so we can replace it with a new one that makes you feel ashamed that you didn't have one sooner.

If your horse is a gentle animal who trots along regardless of papers, boards, cars or trains that may be passing and does not shy there is no necessity of putting a curbed bit on him. We have bits that are suitable for all horses.

Our advertisements in the daily papers attract more wanters than we know what to do with at times, but they are indulgent with us and if they cannot be waited on the minute they get in the store there are attractive bits of crockery and glassware to occupy their attention for a few minutes. It's the shoppers and buyers that make us happy. If the rush continues the force of clerks will be enlarged. Advertising suits us.

If it is a steak or a chop, it's all the better for broiling, if you have the right sort of broiler. The Unique is the one that broils both sides with least trouble. No danger of burning fingers with a Unique.

RAMBLERS FOR $85.

Why buy Second Grade Wheels when you can get an old reliable make for above prices.

Ramblers come fully guaranteed, and we can furnish any customer the guarantee in writing, but so far we have not found a customer who cared to have it put in writing, as they all know that when we state that we will replace any part of a wheel proving defective within a year from date of purchase, that we will do so.

If you want a good wheel that will not cost so much as the above, we have the well known Hartford, which is made by the Pope Mfg. Co., who make the Columbia, and you can get a Hartford from $50 to $85, according to size and style. The same guarantee for replacement of any defective parts goes to you with a Hartford.

Yellow Fellows will not be here on the Australia, as they are having such a run on the Pacific Coast that our order could not be filled in time for her, but we are promised them by a sailing vessel to leave soon after the steamer left San Francisco and will let you know when they come.
